message from our CEO

Darla Wilkerson, CEO

This year I want to be intentional in my efforts and hope each of you will want the same. Being intentional is about bringing commitment, focus and attention to something important to you. Being intentional helps us become more present and achieve bigger and better goals in our work and life. When we are intentional, we bring a clear purpose, structure, and positive mindset to our work.

Everyone has great influence no matter what position we hold. We can be intentional with that influence in our own behavior and in encouraging others around us. We can create positive, inclusive work cultures that promote a sense of belonging for all people with disabilities. The Center for Disability Inclusion has an exciting year planned for elevating disability inclusion conversations and practices and we want you to be as involved as possible. We are looking forward to connecting with you this year and encourage you to get intentional by attending our professional development opportunities. We have plenty for you to choose from, as well as consultation that can be customized to your business.

I invite you to get registered for our upcoming webinars and monthly Network meetings. You can gain a great deal by just being present and engaged in the conversation. Be Intentional!

Plans to Launch Our New "Boost Your Job Search" Program

Plans are in the works to launch our new "Boost Your Job Search" program for candidates with disabilities to guide them in building their profile on JobsAbility to maximize their online presence and employment opportunities. Every $35 donation pays for a candidate to attend by covering costs for meeting space, instructor time and transportation. We're inviting you to help us raise $4,500 to connect more candidates with partner employers who are hiring. Make a donation here and watch our Facebook and LinkedIn pages for updates and ways you can continue to support this impactful initiative!

New Resource for 2022

The 2022 Calendar of Disability Awareness-Related Dates will help you stay up-to-date on important events and be intentional and proactive in your disability events planning for the year. Located on the Resources page of our website.

Tiered Partnership Options for Business and Community Agencies

CDI offers a variety of tiered options that allow you to partner at whatever level best fits your organization. If your 2022 plans include advancing your disability inclusion efforts, we would welcome the opportunity for an exploratory conversation. Check out your Partnership options or contact Darla.
